Descriptive summary

Title

Australian National University Survey of War Memorials

Date range of collection

1984-

Collection number

PR00944

Scope and content note

The Australian National University Survey of War Memorials Collection comprises research materials collected and compiled during a national survey of Australian war memorials throughout Australia and in Australian overseas territories and Australian sections of foreign war cemeteries. Professor Kenneth Inglis of the Australian National University, assisted by Jan Brazier, was director of the project, and author of the book Sacred Places: war memorials in the Australian landscape, Miegunyah Press at Melbourne University Press, Carlton, 1998 (subsequent editions in 2005 and 2008), which is based on the project findings.

The collection is arranged broadly into two parts:

1. Approximately 1500 individual files, including photographs, survey data, on-site notes made by research assistants, and historical information relating to towns, suburbs and individual significant memorials throughout Australia. The files are arranged alphabetically and numerically at item level, and grouped into larger state-by-state series. Series numbers are assigned to each state.
2. A small component of miscellaneous research data, including analysis of statistics and several folders of photographic slides.

Provenance

The collection was created by Professor Inglis, Jan Brazier and other research assistants beginning around 1984. It was donated to the Australian War Memorial by Professor Inglis in February 1998, with additions in January 2000 and February 2004.

Extent

82 boxes, 9.46m

Location

Private Records Collection, Research Centre, Australian War Memorial
